

DFG students in New Orleans, USA

Thanks to a new exchange project, twenty-one music and arts students of our school have been fortunate enough to spend over a week in New Orleans to practice their English and discover the American way of life with host families.

Our partner school, New Orleans Creative Center for Arts (NOCCA), focuses on various art forms, ranging from visual arts, dance, music, acting...and the DFG-LFA students can discover a new school environment and different ways of learning.

Of course, the trip also provides the opportunity to discover the amazing atmosphere and exotic landscapes of the south of the USA.

The American students are scheduled to visit Saarbrücken next year.

We hope it is the beginning of a long-lasting and fruitful exchange.
