

Erasmus+ kick-off meeting with partner schools from Finland, Greece and Spain

Our Erasmus+ kick-off meeting for our next project about the construction and the dissemination of news in the media is approaching fast.

From the 19th until the 21st November, the French-German High School will be working with partner schools from Finland, Greece and Spain.

The focus of the project « Headlines: More than Meets the Eye » will be on introducing pupils to work in international teams and make them aware of their information surrounding.

They will be turned into reporters, visit media outlets, analyze and produce themselves information items that will allow them to consider news in a new light.

Of course, as usual with Erasmus+ projects, our pupils will visit their peers abroad, share their daily lives for a week, and also host them when it is our turn to receive them.

The ultimate goals of the project are also to reflect the European core values promoted by the Erasmus+ programme such as developing intercultural and environmental understanding, language skills, personal and social skills, and building long-lasting friendships abroad.

In a nutshell, promoting a European spirit and support democracy.
